

Students collected and sorted thousands of bottle caps. The caps have been re-purposed as art materials. Pictured here are some experimental sculptures. The bottle caps will be used to create a mural that will be installed in the courtyard. This will be a community effort that will be a part of our Earth Day Celebration on April 22, 2012.

Repurposing is a method of solid waste reduction.

