

December, 2011. Each class committed to following green strategies to save energy and promote recycling. The contracts hang by the classroom doors in the hallway as a daily reminder. Each class sent representatives to read their strategies on the morning news show.

